Welcome to the Van Gogh Museum

Welcome to the Van Gogh Museum. Here you will learn everything there is to know about Vincent van Gogh and his contemporaries. The museum is accessible to everybody. All floors are easy to reach using the lift, there are multiple disabled toilets and baby changing rooms, and wheelchairs, wheeled walkers and prams are available at the museum. If you would like to reserve a wheelchair or require other assistance, please send an email to bezoekersservice@vangoghmuseum.nl.

Accessibility

The museum is easy to reach using public transport. The Van Baerlestraat (tram 2 & 5) and Museumplein (tram 3 & 12) stops are wheelchair accessible. Visitors using a wheelchair are advised to enter the museum via the group entrance at Paulus Potterstraat 7, where a disabled parking space is also available.

Free admission for companions

Visitors who are unable to visit the museum independently are permitted to bring a companion with them. This companion is not required to pay to enter the museum. The companion's ticket includes a free multimedia guide. It is unfortunately not possible to order a companion's ticket online. Please contact a host once you arrive outside the museum, they will be glad to offer further assistance.

Information Desk

The Information Desk in the Entrance Hall of the museum offers information about works in the permanent collection, exhibitions, lectures, workshops and all of our other activities. For visually-impaired visitors, a large-print booklet with the informative texts accompanying the exhibits is available from the Information Desk. Our staff are always on hand to help.

The Van Gogh Museum offers a range of activities for disabled visitors.

Feeling Van Gogh

Several times a year, the Van Gogh Museum offers a special programme for visually-impaired visitors: Feeling Van Gogh. Together with a companion or sighted family member or friend, participants are invited to use their sense of touch and smell to discover Vincent van Gogh's paintings. Please inquire at the Information Desk regarding the dates of upcoming editions. If you are unable to participate in an edition of Feeling Van Gogh, be sure to visit the Feeling Van Gogh wall in the Main Building.

Sign language guided tours

Looking for a guided tour in sign language? Several times a year, the Van Gogh Museum organises a free guided tour especially for deaf visitors and visitors who are hard of hearing. These tours are in Dutch sign language or International Sign. Please enquire at the Information Desk regarding the dates of upcoming sign language guided tours.

Introductory film

A film introducing the life and work of Vincent van Gogh is screened in the auditorium. A loop system is present for visitors who are hard of hearing.
